The screenshot shows the homepage of the Community-Based Research Canada website. At the top, the logo features a stylized tree with red and green leaves, followed by the text "Community-Based Research Canada" and "Recherche partenariale du Canada". Below the logo is a navigation bar with links: "ABOUT CBRC +", "CBR NETWORK", "EVENTS", "RESOURCES -" (highlighted with a purple box), "NEWS", and "BECOME A MEMBER". A dropdown menu is open under "RESOURCES", listing "Intro to CBR", "CBRC Resources", "Academic Articles", "Practical Toolkits", "Webinars" (highlighted with a purple box), "Case Studies", and "CBR Training". The main content area has a background image of hands drawing on a map. The word "Webinars" is written in large, dark text on the left side of the image. At the bottom of the page, the text "2016: Canada and Global Community-University Partnerships Part 1" is displayed.

Q & A

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL `https://ccbr.clickmeeting.com/test_may18?_ga=2.197935471.1182854421.1526651554-1777551370.1520017335&_gac=1.221520618.1526651555.CjwKCAjw8_nXBRAiEiwAXWe2`. The page title is "ClickMeeting test_may18". The interface includes a top navigation bar with "ClickMeeting", "test_may18", and icons for signal strength, language, settings, recording, and a timer at "00:00:5". Below the navigation bar is a "SHARE" button and a "+" icon. The main content area features five large buttons: "PRESENTATION" (with a screen icon), "WHITEBOARD" (with a pencil icon), "DESKTOP" (with a monitor icon), "YOUTUBE" (with the YouTube logo), and "POLLS" (with a clipboard icon). On the left side, there is a "LIVE CHAT" button. At the bottom, there is a "CHAT" section with a text input field containing the placeholder "write your message here!" and a "SEND" button. On the right side, there is a "CAMERA AND VOICE" section with a video feed area, audio and video controls, an "ATTENDEE LIST (1 / MAX 50)" showing one presenter "Centre for Community Based Re...", and buttons for "INVITE" and "STATISTICS".

More Ways to Get Involved With CBRC

The screenshot shows the 'Events' section of the CBRC website. It features a navigation bar with tabs for 'Show All', 'CBRC Event', 'CBRC Webinars', 'CBRET', 'Other CBR Webinars', and 'Workshops'. Below the navigation bar, there are two identical webinar listings for 'Exploring why community-based research is an'. The title 'Exploring why community-based research is an' is partially visible. Below the listings, there is an orange banner with the text 'CBRC Webinars'. Below the banner, there are two maps of Canada. The left map is labeled 'Part 1: The Canadian Perspective' and the right map is labeled 'Part 2: The International Perspective'. Both maps show the provinces and territories of Canada. Below the maps, there is a date and time: 'TUESDAY - 12:00 PM-1:00 PM'.

The screenshot shows the 'Cross-Canada CBR Map' interface. It features a map of Canada with several blue dots indicating locations. A pop-up window for the 'Arctic Institute of Community-Based Research' is displayed. The pop-up includes the institute's address: '308 Hanson St. Whitehorse, YT Y1A 1Y6, Canada'. It also features a photo of Jody Butler Walker, the website link, and a list of organizational affiliations: 'Arctic Institute of Community-Based Research'. The research areas listed are: 'youth capacity building for climate change adaptation in the North, climate change and Indigenous food security in the North'. The map shows the Arctic region of Canada, including the Arctic Ocean and the Bering Sea.
