

Call for Nominations Award for Excellence in Community- Campus Research Partnership 2024

CBRCanada recognizes excellence in community-driven research for societal change

AWARD DESCRIPTION

The Award for Excellence in Community-Campus Research Partnership honours the exemplary contributions of a community-campus research partnership that has demonstrated excellence in community-based research. Nominated research partnerships should demonstrate excellence in research process (e.g., driven by community with meaningful participation of stakeholders); research quality (e.g., meaningful, useful data collection and analysis), and research impact (e.g., community issues addressed by research). Nominated research partnerships should also exemplify an authentic and reciprocal relationship among community and academic partners. The CBRCanada Award is intended to: recognize the achievements of this promising community-based research partnership and signify the importance of community-based research as a growing field of practice.

The Awarded Research Partnership will:

- Receive a commemorative plaque and a $5,000 cash prize to support their community-based research
- Be recognized for their research achievements at the Award Gala Celebration that will be held virtually in Spring 2024. The awarded Research Partnership will nominate two representatives to accept the award: one individual representing community and one individual representing academia
- Be recognized as the 2024 Excellence in Community-Campus Research Partnership recipient on the CBRCanada website, e-news, and social media
- Be invited to showcase their research at CBRCanada events to a network of 60+ member organizations across the country and beyond

SELECTION CRITERIA

The Research Partnership:

- Demonstrates excellence in community-based research process, quality and impact
- Exemplifies an authentic and reciprocal relationship among community and academic research partners
- Is currently undertaking a research project (or recently finished project activities) in Canada
- Has at least one member who belongs to a CBRCanada member organization OR who is a registered individual member of CBRCanada
- Has selected two representatives from the research partnership to accept the award: one from community and one from academia

NOMINATION PACKAGE

Nomination packages should include:

- A) A two-pager (written in plain language) or video (max 6 minutes) sharing the rationale for why this Research Partnership should be considered for the award, following the list of selection criteria
- B) The Community-Campus Research Partnership Award background information form
- C) Endorsements
 - Two to three endorsements by members of the community and/or academia by letter (up to 1.5 pages) or video (up to 4 minutes)

Submit your nomination package by April 3rd 2024 at midnight ET to:

CBRCanada Secretariat, at info@communityresearchcanada.ca with the subject: "2024 Excellence in Community-Campus Research Partnership Award".

Award recipients will be announced late April 2023, and a Gala Ceremony will be virtually in Spring 2024 to honour the Award Recipients. Up to two nominations can be submitted per institution/organization (for large academic institutions a maximum of three). Nominations will be evaluated by the CBRCanada Awards Subcommittee.
